RE: Trooper G. Bones Troop G
Trooper B. Godfrey Troop G
Trooper J. Franks Troop G
Trooper J. Fitchett Troop C
Trooper J. Hypes Troop C

Colonel Knight,

The University of North Florida served as the Super Bowl XXXIX practice site for the Philadelphia Eagles. Each day during the week of January 31, 2005, an escort team that included the above mentioned troopers ensured that the team arrived safely at the UNF stadium. While the team practiced, these troopers took positions in and around the stadium to ensure the team's safety and the security of the practice site.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank and commend these troopers for the assistance they provided to the University of North Florida Police Department. Each day they worked as a part of the law enforcement team and in doing so they never balked at being asked to work a particular post or assignment. Without question, each of them represented the Highway Patrol in a professional and honorable manner.

Sincerely,

Mark K. Foxworth
Chief of Police
